THE GREAT AMERICAN HOME

A PRETTY FAIR GUESS

Merchants Win from Wm. Lanes by Score of 4-3

Close Game on Sunday Goes to Torrance Past-timers

The Torrance Merchants defeated the William Lanes Sunday by the score of 4 to 3. The winning run came in the sixth inning, when Atwood and Duczauz both singled and advanced a base when Neff dropped Faulkner's throw on George's roller, filling the bases. At this stage of the game Fisher went in for McBride and singled, sending in two scores.

The visitors got one run in the first inning on two bases on balls, a stolen base, a sacrifice, and an infield-out. But the locals got two in their half of the first, after Lovell went out. Vonderahe got a life when the first baseman dropped the ball, and went to third when Blackman wildly threw over first after making a nice stop of Atwood's grounder, Atwood going to second. Both scored when Parker singled over first.

The Lanes got their other two scores in the seventh. Faulkner walked and stole second. Neff also walked, and after Warren Bracha both had struck out, Brayton singled to right, scoring Faulkner, and Neff scored when Fisher's throw-in was wide.

Hess struck out 13, and allowed only three hits, but his wildness got him in trouble a few times. He walked six and hit one man. Cheney, for the visitors, also pitched a good game, being nipped for only five hits and striking out ten of the locals. Duczauz, for the locals, and Brayton, for the Lanes, were the only ones to get more than one hit, both getting two safeties. The score:
